At the beginning of the session, we will be reflecting on the following questions:

- 1. How did watching/listening to topics make you feel?
- 2. Can you relate to the topics covered and experiences shared?
- 3. How can we use the I&D workstream to address the issues raised?

Workshop Agenda

Reflections on the pre-workshop activity

Reaffirming the importance of creating a culture of belonging

- Why this piece of work is important for the delivery of the RPS Strategy, for the wider profession and patients
- How and why inclusion and diversity is important for all elements of practice and policy
- What we have learnt since the launch of the RPS I&D Strategy since its launch in June 2020

What does Inclusion, diversity and belonging mean to you?

- Going into smaller groups to discuss what does I&D mean to you from both a personal perspective but also within your role as a RPS board member
- Feedback from groups

Discussion and questions

 Invite board members to reflect on learning since the launch of the RPS Strategy and ask questions

What we have achieved to date

- Reflecting on activity and engagement on 2020-2022 delivery to date
- Board members to share what they feel has worked well and what hasn't worked well

Identify actions and activities for 2023-2024

- Areas of work to take forward for next year – undertaking a SWOT analysis in smaller groups

Feedback and final comments

| Purpose of item (for decision or noting) | Decision   |  |  |
| Risk implications                        | Meetings should be sufficient for effective Board working  |  |  |
| Resource implications                    | Options are within existing budget   |  |  |
| Headline summary of paper                | At the July Assembly meeting, options for changing the frequency of Board and Assembly meetings were requested.  A paper will be considered by the November Assembly meeting which will propose that Boards should decide the frequency of meetings within the current budget envelope. A verbal update on the decision of Assembly will be provided at the SPB meeting.  This paper provides options for consideration, assuming a decision will come to Boards. This paper will be withdrawn if Assembly makes a different decision. |  |  |

Background

National Pharmacy Boards currently meet four times a year. In 2022, this comprised:

- February virtual meeting
- May/June in-person working day
- June virtual meeting
- September hybrid meeting

The Scottish Pharmacy Board has a slightly different arrangement. The one-day meetings are shortened by 1-1.5 hours and an evening meeting (1-1.5 hours) takes place at the mid-point between two Board meetings. The total cost is the same, since SPB members claim once for a full day to cover both the Board day and evening meeting.

The proposed total budget for Board meetings in 2023 is the same as for 2022, and includes four one-day meetings, three virtual and one in-person.

Assessment

The total budget for Board meetings is unchanged between 2022 and 2023, therefore any proposal to change the frequency of meetings must be within the same total financial envelope. Therefore, three options for 2023 within the current budget are:

| Option |   | Virtual meetings  | In-person meetings |
|--------|---|---|--------------------|
| 1.     | Continue with current frequency                         | 3x shorter day (6 hours) and 3x 1.5-hour evening meetings | 1x full day        |
| 2.     | Change virtual meetings to be shorter and more frequent | 6x half-days  | 1x full day        |
| 3.     | Change to a combination of above                        | 1x full day4x half-day                                | 1x full day        |

Note: members would be paid half-day rates for half-day meetings; and a total of one day's rate for a 6-hour plus 1.5 hour meeting

Recommendation

It is recommended that Board members consider the different options and decide on the frequency of meetings in 2023. It is suggested that if a new frequency is selected that the decision is reviewed in November 2023 to determine whether it is beneficial compared with the historical frequency of meetings. Finally, consideration should be given on how agenda items can be jointly considered with the English and Welsh Boards.
